

'UNDERSTANDING AND TREATING BORDERLINE PERSONALITY DISORDER'

Prof. Glen Gabbard

Professor of Psychiatry and Brown Foundation Chair of Psychoanalysis, Baylor
College of Medicine, Houston, Texas, USA. Training and Supervising Analyst, Houston/Galveston Psychoanalytic Institute

For many years, Glen Gabbard has written, spoken, researched and taught on the subject of the treatment of Personality Disorder. His reputation in the area, clinically and theoretically, is unsurpassed. He occupies a unique place within Psychiatry and Psychoanalysis, having built enduring bridges between the disciplines through his many academic and clinical contributions. In this lecture and seminar, Glen Gabbard tackles fundamental questions regarding the conceptualisation and treatment of Borderline Personality Disorder, drawing on Psychoanalysis, Psychiatry and Neuroscience. Note: ample time will be given for open discussion with Prof. Gabbard from the floor. This meeting is a must for all concerned with the treatment of severe mental and psychological disturbance.
